10.1. This paragraph only applies to consumers (i.e. individuals) and only to private matters (i.e. not associated with your trade or profession) and where we have not met you or we have met you away from our business premises:

10.2. The Consumer Contracts (Information, Cancellation and Additional charges) Regulations 2013 provide that you have the right to cancel this contract if: (a) this contract is a distance contract i.e. a contract concluded under an organised distance service-provision scheme solely by distance communication and we have not met with you before the contract is concluded, or (b) this contract is an off-premises contract i.e. a contract concluded away from our offices (e.g. at your home), or, in limited circumstances, a contract concluded at our offices after meeting with you away from our offices. If our contract is an 'on-premises' contract, you do not have the right to cancel under these Regulations.

10.3. If the right to cancel applies, you have the right to cancel this contract, without giving any reason within 14 days of the date of the letter or email attaching this contract. To do so, you can let us know by your clear statement via (for example) post, fax or email. If you prefer, you can download and print the cancellation notice from our website <https://levisolicitors.co.uk/model-cancellation-notice/>. You can also use the cancellation form attached to our client engagement letter. To meet the cancellation deadline, it is sufficient that you send your cancellation notice before the end of the 14-day period. If our services have concluded before the end of the cancellation period, your right to cancel will be lost if you have instructed us to commence work before the 14-day period has expired.

10.4. If you are unsure about anything in this sub-section, please contact us immediately.

10.5. If you cancel this contract we will, without charge and within 14 days of you telling us, reimburse funds received from you, but only to the extent that they have not already been paid out on your behalf as instructed. Work cannot commence on a matter to which the right to cancel applies within the cancellation period, unless you make an express request. If you requested to begin the performance of services during the cancellation period, you shall pay us an amount which is in proportion to what has been performed, until you have communicated to us your cancellation of this contract, in comparison with the full coverage of this contract.

11. LIABILITY FOR COSTS AND EXPENSES

11.1. You are primarily responsible for paying our costs and expenses, even if you have entered into an agreement for another party to pay or share them.

11.2. If our instructions in relation to a matter are received from more than one party, each party for whom we are acting will be jointly and severally responsible for payment of the whole of our costs and expenses.

11.3. By appointing us to act on your behalf you also authorise us to incur such expenses and disbursements as we consider necessary.

11.4. These disbursements will be provided to you at cost. VAT will be added to those expenses and disbursements which are liable to VAT. We will consult with you before incurring any significant expenses and disbursements.

11.5. Examples of expenses and disbursements which we may have to pay on your behalf include Land Registry search and registration fees, stamp duty, court fees, counsel's and other experts' fees.

11.6. We reserve the right to charge expenses of travel, accommodation and meals while travelling away from the office in relation to your matter and for photocopying costs incurred on your behalf.

12. CHARGES

12.1. Our costs are normally calculated by reference to the rates of the legal personnel who deal with the matter. Hourly rates vary according to the seniority and experience of the legal personnel. Other factors may also be taken into account, including the complexity, urgency and value of the matter, and an additional sum may be added. Time spent on your affairs will include meetings with you and perhaps others; preparing and working on papers; research; correspondence (including emails); making and receiving telephone calls; and travelling.

12.2. Please note that although our hourly rates are set in line with market rates, these rates may differ from those that we can recover from your opponent or are allowed by the Court at assessment. We will endeavour to recover the maximum amount of potential costs however any shortfall on the rates and/or overall costs is recoverable from you.

12.3. Routine letters that we write and receive, routine telephone calls that we make and receive and routine emails that we send and receive will be charged as units of 1/10th of an hour i.e. 6 minutes. Other letters calls and emails will be charged on a time spent basis.

12.4. Our rates are reviewed annually to take into account changes in our overhead costs and inflation, and we will notify you of any changes. We will also notify you of any change in the status of legal personnel which affects their hourly rate. VAT will be added at the rate which applies when the work is done. All estimates or quotations given by us are exclusive of VAT.

12.5. If we have provided you with a quote or fixed fee for the work you require to be carried out then that will be our fee unless we have agreed otherwise. We will endeavour where possible to agree fees where it is appropriate to do so, for example, for carrying out a property transaction, preparing a will or reviewing papers.

12.6. In some case such as litigation matters it is not possible to give a fixed fee for our services and/or disbursements and in those circumstances, we will provide you with an estimate of costs. If we have provided a written estimate of the total charges to you, it is given only as a guide to assist you in budgeting and should not be regarded as a fixed quotation unless otherwise agreed in writing. If our estimate changes we will update any such estimate at least every six months. We will also inform you if any unforeseen but significant additional work becomes necessary (for example, due to unexpected difficulties or if your requirements or the circumstances significantly change during the matter). We will inform you in writing before any significant extra costs or expenses are incurred. We will not incur any disbursements such as experts' fees, counsel's fees or court fees without obtaining your consent to do so

12.7. You may set a limit on the costs to be incurred. This means that you must pay costs and/or expenses up to the agreed limit without our needing to refer to you. We will inform you as soon as it appears that the limit may be exceeded, we will not exceed the agreed limit without first obtaining your consent to do so. If, for any reason, this matter does not proceed to completion, we will charge you for the work done and expenses incurred.

12.8. It is normal practice to ask clients to pay sums of money from time to time on account of the costs and disbursements which are expected in the following weeks or months. This helps to avoid delay in the progress of the case. Full details of the payments required on account of charges will be incorporated in the letter sent with the terms of business. We may request further payments on account for costs to be incurred as the matter progresses. For work already completed please see below. When we put these payments towards your bills, we will send you a receipted bill.

12.9. We will also utilise any monies recovered on your behalf against our outstanding costs. For example, where we recover any damages or compensation for you this will be used to discharge any fees owing to us prior to those monies in respect of damages being paid to you. For further information, please refer to our costs information sheet. We will offset any such payment against your final bill, but it is important that you understand that your total costs may be greater than any advance payment.

13. BILLING ARRANGEMENTS

13.1. Our invoices are delivered pursuant to the provisions of the Solicitors Act 1974, the Solicitors' (Non-Contentious Business) Remuneration Order 2009 and the SRA Standards & Regulations together with any statutory re-enactment or modification thereof and any regulations made thereunder as applicable from time to time.

- 13.2. Please note that our invoices will be delivered to you in electronic format only, unless you advise us you wish to send the same by other means.
- 13.3. We will be entitled to send you an interim request for payment on account, usually monthly unless otherwise agreed or we have agreed a fixed fee for the entirety of the work. Once the matter has completed, or in anticipation of a matter completing, we will send you a final invoice. This, together with the interim requests on account, shall make up the entirety of our charges for the matter.
- 13.4. Unless you request otherwise, our final bill will only cover work carried out from the preceding interim request for payment on account. You are entitled to request a final statute bill covering the entirety of the work you should do so within 1 month.
- 13.5. You will also have the ability, if you so wish, to have our bills assessed by the Court pursuant to S.70 of the Solicitors Act 1974. Please see Part 3 Remuneration Of Solicitors of the Solicitors Act 1974
- 13.6. Accounts when rendered and requests for payment on account generally should be settled within 7 days. In property transactions, accounts are payable on or before completion. (We reserve the right to refuse to complete if costs or disbursements remain unpaid). If accounts or requests for payment on account are not paid within 7 days, we reserve the right to do no further work on your behalf until payment is received and to charge interest on overdue accounts at 4% above the Royal Bank of Scotland base rate for the time being in force. If you have any queries about your bill, you should contact the fee earner straightaway.
- 13.7. Due to changes in legislation regarding credit card/debit card charges we are only able to accept credit card payments up to a maximum of £1,000.00 per matter, and debit card payments of up to a maximum of £5,000.00 per matter.
- 13.8. We are normally only able to accept cash up to a limit of £500 in any 28-day period.
- 13.9. Where we have to pay money to you, it will be paid by cheque or bank transfer. It will not be paid in cash or to a third party.
- 14. YOUR MONEY
- 14.1. Our Ways to Pay document contains our bank details. This is the only document that contains our bank details. It is very unlikely that these will change. If they do change, we will NEVER inform you of this change via email. Be alert for fraudsters pretending to be Levi Solicitors LLP and providing false bank details. Always refer to the original Ways to Pay document contained within your client care pack for the correct bank details. Please telephone us using our main switchboard number to verify our bank details before transferring any money. We will not be liable if you send monies to an account which is not ours.
- 14.2. At the conclusion of your matter, there may be instances in which there are still funds in our client account. Where appropriate, at the outset of your matter, we will ask you to provide us with your bank details and the payment will be returned to that account. It is therefore important that you advise us should your account details change. In circumstances where we do not hold your account details, we will make reasonable attempts to contact you to return the funds. Where the amount is £500 or less, and reasonable attempts to contact you have been made, the money will be paid to our chosen charity and a written record of the process and payment maintained. For amounts over £500, an application will be made to the SRA to pay the monies to charity.
- 14.3. The firm operates its client account through The Royal Bank of Scotland.
- 14.4. It is unlikely that we will be held liable for losses resulting from a banking failure.
- 14.5. The Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) is the UK's statutory compensation scheme for customers of deposit providers (banks, building societies, etc.). The FSCS can pay compensation (up to £85,000) to consumers if a deposit provider is unable, or likely to be unable, to pay claims against it. Some temporary high balances (up to £1,000,000) are also covered for up to six months; these relate to balances in transactions involving property, marriage, divorce, redundancy, unfair dismissal, personal injury, a legacy from an estate of a deceased person or money held on behalf of a deceased person for the purpose of administering their estate.
- 14.6. The £85,000 FSCS limit applies to an individual client, so if you hold other personal monies in the same deposit-taking institution as our client account, the limit remains £85,000 in total. Some deposit-taking institutions have several brands, i.e., where the same institution is trading under different names, so you should check with your deposit provider, the FCA or a financial adviser for more information. Further information regarding the FSCS can be found at www.fscs.org.uk, telephone number 0800 678 1100 or 020 7741 4100.
- 14.7. If a banking failure occurs in relation to any deposit provider which holds money that we have deposited on your behalf, we will seek consent from you to disclose to the FSCS all relevant details in our possession about you and the money that we hold on your behalf with such a deposit provider. Please note that if you withhold consent to our disclosure of your details to the FSCS in such circumstances, you may forfeit any right you may have to receive compensation from the FSCS where a banking failure occurs in relation to a deposit provider holding money which we have deposited on your behalf.

If you are giving instructions on behalf of a corporate entity, we will require not only documentation relating to the corporate entity but also the individual giving those instructions

15.3. These searches may be made with a credit reference or Fraud Prevention Agency, including information from the Electoral Roll. The agencies will record the details of the search whether or not your matter proceeds. Other lenders may share these searches in order to prevent fraud. Scoring methods may be used as part of this process. There is a cost to this procedure, and this will be outlined in your client care documentation.

We may only decide to stop acting for you with good reason, for example, if you do not pay an interim bill, comply with our requests for a payment on account, fail to provide us with instructions or where we reasonably believe that the relationship between you and us has broken down. We must give you reasonable notice that we will stop acting for you. If you or we decide that we will no longer act for you, you will have to pay our charges and expenses as set out above.

29.2. We will keep our file of papers (except for any of your papers created before the retainer, which you ask to be returned to you) for no more than seven years in secure storage either as a physical file or scanned and kept as PDF documents. We keep the file on the understanding that we have the authority to destroy it seven years after the final bill we send you for this matter (or 7 years from closure). We will not destroy documents you ask us to deposit in safe custody.

29.3. As a contribution to the costs associated with storage of papers relating to your matter, we make a charge of £35 plus VAT per matter. If we are acting for you on more than one matter, you will be charged a separate fee for each such matter.

29.4. If we retrieve papers or documents from storage in relation to, or accordance with, your instructions, we will not normally charge for such retrieval.

30. THIRD PARTY RIGHTS

30.1. It is agreed between us that the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 does not apply to the terms of our engagement or any subsequent amendment to it unless expressly confirmed in writing by us that the said Act does apply.

31. CONSUMER PROTECTION

31.1. The Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations prohibit unfair commercial practices and misleading acts and omissions. Neither you, nor we, must mislead any other party, either by providing incorrect or ambiguous information, or by omitting to provide material information. For example in a conveyancing transaction you must disclose to us any known defects and other material adverse matters relating to the property which are known to you; failure to do so may give the buyer or tenant rights of redress against you, including the right to unwind the transaction and damages.

32. GOVERNING LAW AND JURISDICTION

32.1. The agreement between us shall be governed by and construed in accordance with English law.

32.2. The English courts shall have exclusive jurisdiction to settle any dispute which may arise between us. To this end you and we irrevocably agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the English courts. Judgement in any action brought in the English courts may be enforced in the courts of any other jurisdiction.

33. AGREEMENT

33.1. Unless otherwise agreed, these terms of business apply to any future instructions you give us.

33.2. Your continuing instruction in this matter will amount to your acceptance of these terms and conditions of business. Even so, you will be asked to sign and date the letter of instruction accompanying these terms and return the same to us immediately. We can then be confident that you understand the basis on which we will act for you.

33.3. This is an important document. Please keep it in a safe place for future reference.

33.4. Finally, your prompt help and assistance is essential during the progress of this matter by supplying instructions quickly and answering our correspondence immediately. In litigation matters the court may impose cost penalties where there is delay, or a failure to adopt the court's over-riding objectives, including openness and co-operation between the parties.
